

Eng. Leena Marashdeh

Project Assistant

She is a Research Assistant at School of Engineering at The University of Jordan (UJ) since 2015. She received a Bachelor degree in “Chemical Engineering” from the University of Jordan (UJ) in 2010 and a Master degree in “Environmental and Water Engineering” from the University of Jordan (UJ) in 2013. She was assigned as a project assistant on many European funded projects that aims to build the capacities of staff and develop curriculum in higher education, the University of Jordan (UJ) is the applicant (Grant Holder) for some of these projects. Eng. Marashdeh is highly experienced in writing projects proposals and communication.