

Personal Information

Prof. Dr. Klaus Maßmeyer
klaus.massmeyer@hs-owl.de

Role in OWL (UAS) organization

Head of the department Umweltmeteorologie

Role in EGREEN Project:

Preparing of some special courses at the field of environmental meteorology and participation of steering meetings.

Education

- 1984 Dr. rer. nat., University of Cologne
- 1979 M.Sc. Meteorology, University of Cologne
- 1976 B.Sc. Meteorology, University of Cologne

Personal profile - Experience

- Dynamic Professional with advanced knowledge in atmospheric sciences (meteorology and air pollution) and application of renewable energy technologies.
- Working as a research consultant for more than 9 years followed by more than 21 years of experience in teaching of students in the fields of environmental engineering and renewable energy.
- Senator of the University of Applied Sciences since 1999, serving two times as dean and vice dean.
- Since 2010 local speaker of the Hoexter department as part of the OWL University of Applied Sciences.
- Member of different working groups of the VDI/KRdL (Association of German Engineers <http://www.vdi.eu/engineering/vdi-societies/commission-on-air-pollution-prevention-of-vdi-and-din/>) since more than 25 years.

International Experiences

- Brazil (Research project on thermal solar collectors and testing procedures)
- Norway + Finland (2 times each as an EU-Socrates-lecturer),
- Finland (2 times as an EU-Socrates-lecturer),
- China (Member of the German delegation of the China-Germany Forum on „ClimateChange and Energy“, Peking (2008) and Cologne (2009) Köln –
- Jordan (MAPEC-EU-Tempus-Project)
- Vietnam (EWATEC-project)