منح دراسية للتبادل بين الجامعات والعلماء عن طريق التبادل
بين الجامعات لعام ٢٠١٦

Dear Madam or Sir, dear Colleague,

Please find the following call for applications for your kind information and dissemination to all possibly interested parties.

The DAAD is pleased to announce that it will award a considerable amount of scholarships for academics and scientists to conduct research in Germany in 2016.

Please note: The application deadline this year will be the 31st of August 2015 and not the 01.11.2014!

If you are an academic or scientist (usually with a doctoral degree and working at a university or research institute in your home country) and you want to conduct research at a state or state-recognised university or a non-university research institute in Germany, this programme may be interesting for you: Call for Applications - Bilateral Exchange of Academics.

This is the new Call for Application for 2016 and the Application-Portal is open. If you want to apply, just follow the instructions given under the tab "Application Procedure".

Please note: Research stays can be funded for a minimum of 14 days up to 3 months. And the dates and purpose of the stay must be agreed on beforehand with the academic host institute in Germany.

Please note: The earliest start of the research stay is the 1st of June 2016.

Application Requirements:

As you can see in the Call for Applications there are some requirements you need to meet:

- You need to be an academic or scientists who (usually) has completed her/his doctoral degree and works at a university or research institute in your home country.
- The dates and purpose of your stay must be agreed upon beforehand with the academic host institute in Germany
- You will need a letter from your host confirming cooperation, which refers to the applicant's research project/proposal and guarantees that a workplace will be provided.
- You will need to invite a German professor to your host institute in exchange. Therefore, funding is only available if the German researcher also applies for the German counterpart of this exchange fellowship.
