1 Event Description

The first national workshop in Egypt resulted from the collaboration of the three Egyptian partner universities in the ICT4EDU project, namely AlAzhar University, Suez Canal University and Heliopolis University. The partners from the EU partner universities were also invited to attend.

The aim of this workshop is to present all the courses chosen for updating or developing by infusing the ICT component in the content and in the delivery of the courses. In addition to representatives of staff members, students, and other stakeholders attended to provide their feedback regarding the suggested updates of the courses.

Each university presented the selected courses, the suggested updates and the chosen team for implementation. Afterwards
