

Dr. Mohammad Mhawish

Dr. Mohammad Mhawish is an assistant professor at Irbid National University, which he joined in 2021, and where he teaches advanced courses on Data Science, Deep learning, and Artificial Intelligence.

Recently, he has served as a Dean of Academic Development and Quality Assurance.

His research is mainly oriented towards using Artificial Intelligence and data science to solve problematic issues encountered in all spheres of life.

Dr. Mhawish is interested in conferences, seminars, workshops, and all events organized in the field. He keeps pace with the technological innovations, significant studies, noticeable changes, and labor market needs in the area of Data Science and artificial intelligence