

Dr. Sara Frate

Sara Frate PhD is a psychologist and research fellow at the Department of Philosophy, Sociology, Pedagogy, and Applied Psychology University of Padua. She obtained my PhD in teacher training and especially in ICT by analyzing metacognitive processes in online environments. Her research interests also concern sustainability and teacher professional development. She has participated in numerous Erasmus+ international projects concerning social sustainability and professional development of teachers.