

Dr. Fouzia Marmash

Fouzia Marmash graduated from Mans University in France in Linguistic Policy, Plurilingualism, and New Educational Technology.

She graduated from the Hassan II University, Morocco: Management Sciences. She works in the Institute of Training and Development at Al- Istiqlal University. She works on the needs for training and development of employees of different departments of the University.

Mrs. Marmash develops programs that support the university vision and strategy with the use of national, regional and international resources.

She also works as a coordinator on several World Bank-funded projects in Palestine. She is the coordinator of Academic and Administrative students' mobility projects at Al- Istiqlal University as well as an educational coordinator, French Cultural Center in Nablus.

She had an Experience in Maurice Bucaille Academy in Morocco Casablanca, Morocco: Administrative and Pedagogical Director, Maurice Bucaille Academy-Morocco.

She was former Director of the Projects:

Management and Consultation Unit at the Academy.

Mrs. Marmash was a member of the Quality and Planning Cell at the Maurice Bucaille Academy in Morocco.

She worked on several projects as a manager with the ANAPEC National Agency for Employment and Skills Training) located in Mohamedia in Morocco.

Trainer of educators in early childhood in CAEFF- ACADEMIC CENTER FOR EDUCATION AND TRAINING OF TRAINERS in Morocco

She worked on Training of trainers, in French Institute of Casablanca- Morocco