Fuad Abuowaimer

Mr. Fuad Abuoweimer

Mr. Fuad Abuoweimer is a PhD student in the computer engineering department at the Islamic University of Gaza, and he has been a lecturer in the computer department at Palestine Technical College, Deir El-Balah, since 2015. Currently, Fuad is the head of the computer department; he served as the head of the technical support and information security department at the Ministry of Communications and Information Technology between 2011 and 2015. His research interests include information security, intrusion detection systems (IDS), machine learning, the Internet of Things (IoT), wireless sensor networks (WSN), and mobile edge computing (MEC). Fuad worked as a translator for SANS's international security awareness magazine; he also provides consulting services in the field of network and information security.