Portuguese CTeSP courses

A new window between high school and professional market is now open by the Portuguese CTeSP courses.

Portuguese CTeSP courses

But... what is a CTeSP?

A CTeSP is a Higher Professional technical course.

Portuguese CTeSP courses

Created by the Decree-Law nº 43/2014 de 18 de março (that regulates a new type of short duration training in higher education).

Portuguese CTeSP courses

The CTeSP don't have a terminal academic degree, they are aimed to the acquisition of a level 5 diploma of qualification of the national qualifications framework (NQF).

Portuguese CTeSP courses

And they claim to be the basis for the development of an area of professional activity, for personal development and for the pursuit of studies, with a view to the completion of a course of study to graduate.

Portuguese CTeSP courses

The CTeSP courses have a duration of two years (four semesters). In the first three semesters the students attend general training and scientific disciplines (around 30%) and technical training courses (about 70%).

Portuguese CTeSP courses

70% of the hours of technical training subjects are of practical application, laboratory or workshop, depending on the type of profession that this course is preparing.

Portuguese CTeSP courses

The last semester is filled with an internship that will ensure the implementation of training professional activities for the course prepares.
