1 Event Description

Within the activities of the Scientific Day at the Faculty of Engineering at Mutah University, which was held on Tuesday, 28/03/2023. Mutah University team made an info-day for the Eco-Car, which included the definition of the project and its objectives to students and attendees. At the beginning, the Dean of the Faculty, Prof. Dr. Muhammad Al-Sarayreh, welcomed the attendees and explained the importance of these programs that develop education and technology in Jordan and touched on the technical programs that were launched in the Faculty of Engineering.

After that, Dr. Mohammad Ragab Al-Majali, the technical manager of the project at Mutah University, gave a briefing on the program, the participating universities, the programs that will be established at the university, and the materials that have been developed for this purpose. This is in addition to the educational workshops that were held for faculty members and engineers in the college, which will be done later and for students as well. In the end, there was an extensive discussion from the audience about the program, where the workshop was attended by faculty members, engineers and students in the college.
